

What it means a TG pupil

By Jack Taylor

I joined TG in year three, expecting it to be hard to find friends and fit in. I was very wrong; within the first month I had already made numerous friends. It didn't matter to them that I was from a different school, or that I might have been interested in different things. In only a matter of weeks I could already tell that TG was definitely a school that I was going to stay with all the way to year 6. I also found learning to be a whole lot easier, not because of the difficulty of the work, but because of all of the support that was being given.

Friends

I consider everyone to be my friend now, but some of the people who I spend the most time with are Jonas and Aaron C. This is because they have always been really supportive of me. I'm upset that I'm going to a different school to them but I know that we will still be friends, we just won't be in the same school. I still love spending time with all the people in my class because they are all interested in different things and all unique.

Best Moments

My time at TG was really fun, but I particularly liked Rock Bottom, which was the 2018 Christmas play. I loved my role in the play but it also helped me to become better friends with Aaron and Jonas. Not to mention the hilarious play that I was lucky enough to have a role in. I also found Class 3 camp out really enjoyable. It was fun putting up the tents, then eating bugs and then going to bed late at night, but pretending to be asleep so you don't get told off. In the morning, we had to do exercise and for some reason I was starving. So when breakfast finally came, I ate five bowls of coco pops!

What does it mean to be a pupil at TG?

Being at TG is so fun, but its only fun if you're kind to each other. Otherwise, no one will want to be your friend and you're ruining the fun for other people. If you try hard you will succeed, but if you don't put I any effort, then you won't. Most importantly, you need to enjoy yourself.

Jack Taylor